

Port and Maritime Services from Securitas Security Services Ireland

Securitas Port and Maritime Services

Whether you are responsible for a Port Facility, a Shipping line or you are a user of Port facilities, Securitas Port and Maritime Services in Ireland offers specialist solutions based on our worldwide expertise.

Within the Port environment there are many areas where security is needed and where strict regulations are in place. The Port Authority itself is often our customer, but we also work with shipping lines or individual companies who operate within the Port.

As a recognised Knowledge leader in providing Port and Maritime security solutions, Securitas are able to offer and advise on all aspects of Maritime security.

Knowledge Leaders

At Securitas we share those ideas and solutions that prove most effective within each of our customer's industry sectors.

Our Port and Maritime team play an active role in the Securitas Maritime and Logistics Competence Forum. Here new ideas and examples of best practice from around the world are shared. This expertise is then developed in the UK to the benefit of our customers. The competence centre provides the foundations of our successful solutions worldwide and delivers results direct to your business.

Consultation

Whatever your situation Securitas will take the time to listen and understand your specific requirements before designing your own individual solution.

Securitas Port and Maritime Services can assist you in ensuring full compliance with all current legislation. We can conduct Drills and Exercises as required by the International Ship and Port Facility Code.

We will work with you in preparation of your Port Facility and Ship Security Plan, ensuring compliance from initial assessment and drafting ready for you to submit for approval

Specialised Maritime Training

The Securitas Port and Maritime services team work in partnership with the Glasgow College of Nautical studies to provide full and relevant training. This training is accredited by both the MCA and TRANSEC.

Courses offered include:

- Port Facility Security Officer
- Company Security Officer
- Ship security Officer

Courses can be held within at GCNS or on your own premises.

Port and Maritime Solutions

Securitas, as a world leader in providing security solutions will ensure that you are offered the best solution that the security marketplace can offer.

Working with specialist partners, where required, we will ensure that our solution perfectly fits your ever changing needs both now and in the future.

Complete solutions that will meet all your obligations under the ISPS code

One Outcome

"... Securitas are committed to working as a partner with us to improve services to both our internal and external customers.

The Securitas Management of the contract, consisting of a dedicated Contract Manager, liaising with local Branch Management and site based Managers delivers a proactive service.

This service provides an immediate chain of communication to both local Stena Port Managers and the Stena Line Group Security Manager.

For further details on how Securitas Port and Maritime Services please contact:

0818-365-724

Or email: info@securitas.ie